

Bahamas Students Continue to Soar with TiR

*Great Abaco Island and Freeport are added to
The Bahamas country-wide implementation*

This January, the TUNE into READING team visited Great Abaco Island in the Bahamas, and trained 20 educators at Abaco Central Primary (photo above). This school of over 1000 students has dedicated two computer labs and 80 laptops to insure that as many students as possible experience the magic of singing to boost reading skills. During our visit, the competitive nature of the teachers came out as we sang in teams and accumulated quiz points for prizes. "The "TUNEin" training was easily the most fun professional development we have ever done," said one of the attendees after the training session.

First Graders Love "TUNEin", too!

In a first for TUNE into READING, a Pinellas County (Florida) elementary school carefully evaluated 1st graders before and after using "TUNEin". The school used the program with excellent fidelity and the teacher added her own touch...after a student passed a quiz, he was asked to come to the board and place a gold star next to his name. Lexile scores from the I-ready assessment documented the significant gains made by the students. The principal echoed the teacher's recognition of the program's significant impact on the young students' reading comprehension. Email us at info@ELPcorp.com for more information.

Rock 'n' Read Project Rocks Ahead

Two almost simultaneous milestones were reached in Minneapolis, where our good friends, Bill Jones and Ann Kay have founded The Rock 'n' Read Project, a non-profit with the mission: "Helping children read at grade level through singing."

Bill and Ann successfully beta tested TUNE into READING 7 on Apple's latest Mac operating systems and the kids agreed, "It works even better on Mac".
